Notification for revision of price

Dear customers

Due to the rapid rise in our main material as steel product, copper and aluminum, Nissei Corporation finds it necessary to increase list price as of September 1 2008..

To continue the stable supply of the product, Nissei has accepted the increase in cost price from supplier vender more than once and we have made every effort to maintain price for customer with improved productivity and production rationalization.

However Nissei finds in a difficult situation to supply same price only by corporate effort, therefore we ask you that accept revision of price with the deepest reluctance.

While we do realize the enormity of this request, we hope you will understand the necessity for these price increases.

We look forward to continue good relationship with you.
